

Redeeming Time When It Feels Like There's Never Enough

Chris M. Carter, M.A., M.Div.
2014 CCEF National Conference

What is time? Rethinking time as life

- Three principles about how to think about time biblically, and find wisdom about it everywhere in the Bible.

Why care about time and time management?

- Matthew 25: Because the Kingdom is about care
- Fruitfulness is defined relationally, not economically. No fear of failure; it's about relationship, not result
- Biblical concern of time is not first productivity, but wisdom. Ephesians 5
- Biblical fruitfulness is first about being filled with fruit, before showing fruit.

Strategies for gaining structure for time

- Unique challenges of ministry
- Unique challenges of modern era
- Gaining perspective: Creating a role map
- Gaining control: Creating lists/plans

Brief comments on time and counselees: time management, trauma, and more

Conclusion